There was an opening in the stock market this morning very much like that of ket this morning very much like that of yesterday, with an advance during the first few minutes of the session on what appeared to be spirited buying by insiders. Before the end of the first hour there was duliness again, and it semed probable that the opening spurt would fade away as it did yesterday into extreme inactivity. The situation possesses no new features. The strike trouble cannot be said to be either much better or acutely worse than heremuch better or acutely worse than here-tofore, although the affair is spreading somewhat. Money is easier than last week, and the situation in this regard seems like-ly to improve. There is not much proba-bility now that the Bank of England will raise its discount rates above 31-2. The predictions regarding the coming bank statement are hopeful. It cannot be said that there is really anything the matter with the market or the immediate outlook, except the summertime lack of interest, in the market leaders and public alike. The general railway and industrial news ontinues extremely favorable.

The two incidents of the early market that broke into what would otherwise have been complete stagnation, were the solling of New York Air Brake and the strength of Metropolitan Traction. The of the New York circuit court of in the case of the Westinghouse appeals in the case of the Westinghouse Company against the New York Air Brake Company, which is considered final, was entirely in favor of the latter company and gives it the certain right to manufac-ture under their patents. There has been much expectancy over this suit owing to the phenomenal business of the company and the startling advance in the price of its stock. The action of the stock on the announcement of the decis-ion is a typical market movement. Yesterday morning it opened up several points to 230 and then went off steadily to 212. g the decline continued to 190 below the high price of yester-Profit taking is suposed to account for the decline entirely as the profits in the recent immense advance of the stock have been enormous for the fortunate holders. Not very long ago it was selling at 19 so that the advance was considerably over 200 points. At the same time there is no investment outside the New York stock market in which the news of com-plete victory and assured immense profits in the future would cause an imslump in value. The present earnings of the company are said to be more than 20 per cent and the supposition is that a stock dividend of 100 per cent will be is-

Metropolitan Traction sold this morning ex rights," which include the privilege to tockholders to take at par stock to the extent of one-eighth of their present holding The company will issue, as has been stated heretofore, $5,000,000 of treasury stock. The rights are worth on the market value of the stock yesterday—220 or thereabouts—something like 15. The first sales of Metropolitan this morning were considerably above yesterday's quotations, on this basis and the sellers of the stock, around 200 made a banders year. 209, made a handsome profit.

The grangers advanced at the opening fractionally, but later in the session drift-ed back to yesterday's level, St. Paul around 131. Atchison preferred at 61, and the others relatively not quite so high. The Street is bullish in its expectations regarding St. Paul and Atchison preferred especially.

A. L. Mobier, who has been President of the Oregon and Navigation Company, has been chosen to succeed President Ingalls, of the Big Four. His Lifeless Body Found in His Father's Barn. Carlisle, Pa., July 20.—Ralph Bokers, of Bridgeport, this county, aged eighteen years, and a student at Dickinson College, committed suicide by hanging Tuesday night. His body was discovered yesterday morning in his father's barn. He had taken a half-inch rope and fastened an end of it around a heavy beam, near a ladder which led to one of the hay mows. While standing on the ladder he carefully adjusted a noose around his neck and then took a leap into eternity. The body hung

The hired man who discovered the body slept within ten feet of it, as did three tramps, none of whom, however, knew of the grewsome presence. Coroner Diven held an inquest, and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide, caused by overstudy. Bowers at times would lapse into spe'ls of melancholy. He was a bright young man, and at the recent commencement of Dickinson College took high honors and was awarded the John T. Todd prize of $100 for excellence in scholarship. Samuel H. Bowers, the youth's father, moved to the Hummel farm about five years ago. He had two children, both boys, Ralph and Raymond, who is younger.

C., July 20 .- According to advices from Korea received by the steam-Empress of India, Prince Henry of Prussia received a hospitable reception in Seoul When the Emperor received him, he told the Prince that Korea had a clear understanding of the position occupied by Ger-many, and that any advice given by the distinguished visitor would be carefully This declaration is said to have been promoted by some suggestions previously made by Prince Henry to Korean Ministers in the sense that Korea would probably fare better if, instead of allowing Russia and Japan to fill the whole vista of her foreign affairs, she included Germany as a commercial need. unterbalance

Some more tangible results of the Prince's visit are also spoken of. Thus in he matter of the Seoul-Gensen Railway, the concession for which is believed to have been the object of competition be-tween Americans, Russians, and Germans, the prospects of the Germans are now said eclipse those of their rivals.

The British Covernment has decided to retrocede the city of Sham Cheun to China, accepting a monetary indemnity for expenses incurred in putting down disturbances in the territory. inces in the territory. The amount of in-lemnity is fixed at £93,000. Kolowaci City will be retained by Hongkong. This retrocession is condemned in most unquali-fied terms, as it will incur a legacy of trouble in the future administration of the new territory.

YELLOW JACK'S LAST VICTIM.

uperintendent of the Barber Asphal

Santiago de Cuba, July 20 .- George Olen, of Denver, Superintendent of the Barber Asphalt Company, died at noon yesterday from yellow fever. His was the last case of the disease reported, and his death will probably be the last one, as all the patients in the fever hospitals are recovering. Five days have now elapsed since Olzen's case was reported, and this is taken to indicate that the disease has been exter-minated. Last week there were only sixeen deaths from all causes. This is the but he will not order the return of the but he will not order the return of the troops to the city or the raising of the quarantine for some time. He says that the average number of deaths monthly during the Spanish regime was 250, and that this has been reduced during the American administration to 100. With the country healthy and business improving he
